

BUSINESS OWNER & Office Manager

Did you know that a company in relocation or transition mode is considered a failure by company leadership more than 35% of the time?

Why is this? Corenet, IFMA and other real estate and facility industry organizations report the following challenges leading to relocation challenges and failures:

1. Communication – organizations don't discuss or recruit the right employees to lead the transition process.
2. Planning-Businesses simply don't leave themselves enough time to manage the event.
3. Stakeholders aren't completely invested nor are they involved on a consistent level.
4. The chosen manager simply isn't skilled or experienced enough to lead and manage the relocation or furniture purchase process.
5. There are more than 200 tasks associated with a business relocation event which can require close to 300 man hours to manage. This is a full time job for an already overworked manager.
6. Most business owners and office managers aren't versed in furniture, space planning, design and furniture decommission related issues, which means learning as you go, often leading to overspending!

Business Transition 360 is a single source Solution available to business owners and company leaders to reduce risk, liabilities and expenses related to a corporate move and furniture project.

Why risk it? Why not consider a source who works with clients like HP, GE, Jacobs Engineering, CBRE, ISS and so many other companies. Companies and leaders that realize the importance of sourcing their noncore projects to an expert and specialist in furniture, space planning, ergonomics and relocation.

Business Transition 360 is a Business to Business Transition and Furniture project management company serving real estate and facility management executives for 30 years.

Whether you are challenged with a simple move add change project to a complete corporate relocation and new furniture standardization initiative, Business Transition 360 has been there. Clients like ISS, HP, Pilot Air, GE and Jacobs Engineering continue to benefit from and save hundreds of thousands of dollars each year when sourcing the facility service professionals at BT360.

Consider our team available any time to learn more about the solutions we offer to the facilities and real estate industries regionally or nationally.

Business Transition 360
2700 Braselton Highway Suite 10-226 Dacula, GA
30019 | 678-360-8708
www.businesstransition360.com

